

St. George gin 70cl 45%

- Engeland

Heerlijke gin uit Californië!

Pine buds, spruce, fir and pine cones greet the nose. It's immediately evocative. The forest seemingly is literally sitting in your glass.

The palate is rife with more of the same, but with more specific flavors recognizable. Sage and bay leaves early, the sage meshes with resinous juniper, fir needles and becomes slightly more minty and cool tasting as the taste progresses. It tastes thick and rich, with nearly every manner of conifer combining at once. However, where I think it really shines is towards the finish where the sage retreats a bit and you get coriander and delicate spice. There's a slight hint of lemon and citrus as well.

The finish is cool and moderately long, with minty cool sage. Very smooth and extremely easy to drink on its own.
